AXA Rosenberg Equity Alpha Unit Trust (the "Trust")

Dear Unitholder,

AXA Rosenberg Management Ireland Limited (the "Manager") has received an update from AXA Rosenberg Investment Management Limited (the "Investment Manager") regarding the AXA Rosenberg JAPAN SMALL CAP ALPHA Fund ("sub-fund") with respect to the risk model coding error (the "Coding Error").

This letter applies only to investors who were invested in the sub-fund between 09/01/2008 and 30/10/2009.

As indicated in its letter of 15 April 2010 circulated to you, the Investment Manager advised that it had engaged external experts to conduct a comprehensive and objective assessment of the impact of the Coding Error on portfolio performance (the "Report"). The Report has concluded that the sub-fund you were invested in was negatively impacted by the Coding Error. Based on a presentation received, the Board has no current reason to believe this is not the case. The Manager has sought full reimbursement for the Fund in respect of loss caused by the Coding Error. While reserving all its rights vis-à-vis the Investment Manager, the Manager intends to accept this payment in mitigation of the negative impact caused by the Coding Error. The Manager will discuss the appropriate allocation process with the Central Bank of Ireland and the Trust's governing and overseeing functions and will agree an appropriate allocation process, if any for this payment. Any such approach may take some time to apply but we will keep you updated in this regard.

Yours faithfully,

David Cooke
Director on behalf of the AXA Rosenberg Management Ireland Ltd
